THE WAR IN MISSOURI.-We find the followig in the St. Louis Democrat of the 18th: Mr. L. E. Green, a resident of Springfield, ar-ived on the last evening train, having left that clace on Sunday marning, the 14th. He says denoral Lyon reached Springfield on Saturday evening.

The rebel troops, 5,000 to 6,000 strong, at last accounts had left Neosho for Arkansas.

The Home Guards of the Southwest are the liveliest set of men the country has ever seen. Col. Phelps is in command, with Mr. S. H. Boyd for Lieutenant Colonel and Sample Orr for Major. On the report of the Carthage fight and the rumor that the rebels were marching on Springfield, the Home Guards rallied from all parts of the adjoining country and poured into that place on horseback and by wagon-loads. The danger passed and they retired to their We propose to offer, In's few brief paragraphs, such proofs of the efficacy of KADWAY'S READY RELIEF health and tives of the lens of thoneands of brave and patriotic cliizens who have left and are daily leaving litely bomes, their families, and their business to fighl RELIEF has already been of immense benefit to the sick among our gallant volunteer soldlery in CAMP, IN THE BIVOUAC, AND ON THE MARCH.

The rebels got all around Sigel's men, thirty deep in tiles, but the U.S. troops turned their artillery and cut a wide breach through them and mowed them down from all sides. Sigel cummenced retreating, fighting all the time. The rebels surrounded him three times, but every time he cut his way through. The rebels got into several look houses from which to fire, but the U.S. boys would direct a howitzer towards them and demolish them with every soul in them. This way Sigel fought them off all day until dusk, when the rebels retreated, or rather quit following up that U.S. troops. The U.S. troops aloed firm as a rock, and the rabels could not break a single rank. About noon Ben McCullough's army came up with his 2,000 hoasted I exen Rangers, altegether between 10,000 and 12,000 men against 1,100, only 800 of whom were tighting, the belance training thought their tening of the rebels to the decision of the course of coursing through their veins.

In the first place: The Preservation of the Nation itself. Shall the nation he deew statesmen left amongst us, who, alarmed at the fearful strides of the country towards nations-all of them incapable of maintaining an existence as a first-rate power, in the face of the great nations of the earth? Shall our national unity, strength, and glory, be nunihilated-and with them our national Indepen dence in the face of all nations be destroyed Shall our glorious country sink down-divid ed, dishonored, reduced to ignoble and precarious dependence upon nations to whom we are now equal, and to whom it ought to be our destiny to give law, instead of receiving law from them? It is this first principle of all our progress, our security, and our glory-that is put at the hazard of the defeat or the success of the disunion party. In the second place: Republican Liberty, as now enjoyed under our national and State constitutions; or, perhaps, we should rather say, all liberty, public and personal, in America. For nothing is more certain than that under the anarchy, which is the very life blood of the secession movement,

In the third place: had struck from the statute-book almost every man, and lives with his family in New Albany, security to person, security to property; security-the highest blessing of the highest civilization-without which neither independence nor liberty is possible. Who is secure in any secession State? What is secure in any one of them? What can be seenre, where law is despised, where government is subverted, where anarchy is supreme, where brute force is the only form of administration, where unbridled passion is the sole rule of judgment, where the ruling powers abhor institutions in proportion nominious and trailorous war against the govas they are venerable, just, and glorious? PITISBURG, July 19, M.

Sr. Charles, Mo., July 19.

To the People of Northern Missouri:

By virtue of the proper authority I have assumed command in Northern Missouri. I appear among you with a force poungh to maintain the authority of the Government and too strong to be resisted by any means in your possession usual in warfare. Upon your own assurances that you would respect the laws of the United States and preserve the peace no troops have beretofore been sout into your section of the country. The occurrences of the last ten days, however, have plainly exhibited that you lack either the power or incleasion to fulfill your pledges, and the Government has heretofore found it necessary to occupy North Missouri with a force powerful enough to compel obedience to the laws. So soon as it is made manifest that you will respect its authority and put down the unlawful combinations against the subject of the laws. So soon as it is made manifest that you will respect its authority and put down the unlawful combinations against the subject of the laws. HOME AND EUROPEAN DEMANDI or sek some question in a harsh, authoritetive voice, and is the sort of man thete aman will stop to take a good lock at as he passes. I don't think he has anything like physical fear—is all through a soldier, and will yet make his mark high in the military world.

See what a distinguished St. Louis Physician says of it:

PROSPECTIVE RECONTRION OF THE SOUTHERN CONERGEACY BY FRANCE.—In reference to the appearance in the official Monitor of a stetement originally made in La Patrie, that France will recognize the Southern Confideracy when it becomes an established fact, the Government has received a very ample explanation from M. Thouvenel, Minister of Foreign Affairs.

He was surprised and displeased et seeing the note in the Monitour, and delares that its insertion in La Patrie and transfer to the clinical cream were without any sort of recommendation or even previous knowledge of the Administration; so vexed was he at seeing it that he immediately wrote to Walewski, Minister of State of the Household, suggesting that it should be disavowed in an clicial nole communique in a fellowing number of the Moniteur, Walewski replied in substance that, since the article had no official form, was published in the supplement, ster official column, hulletin, news column, and three or four pages of Corps Legislatif, in an out-of-tha-way curner of the paper—since it had ready done what little harm it could, and the communique would only revive old and attract new eitention to it, thorefore, least said was now soonest mended.

Parsign was much irritated about it. La Patrie (which has recently undergone an editorial change) had ceased for some days previsus to the publication of the note in question to be the semisub ministerial organ that it had been.

In regarl to Rost, the one of the C. S. A. Commissioners who speaks French, he did have an interview with Thouvenel, effer coming from England, but Thouvenel refused to recognize him in stoficial quality; conver ms other private gentleman for the sake of informetion, and did not give him any promise of recognition of the C. S. A. next October or any other time—"on the contrary, quite the reverse." This was the first, the last, and only interview had between Thouvenel end any of the egents of the C. S. A. As for the presentation of two of them by Fuulkner, it never took place. Neither Yancey nor the other man, said to heve heen presented, can speak enough to carry on the simplest conversation, while Thouvenel can't speak enough English to bring it back, and the Secretary of Legation, who was F.'s attendant interpreter on his visits to the foreign office, is an out-and out Union man. Faulkner is still in Paris, much distressed, and epprentity awaiting his appointment is C. S. A. Minister!
